Dear Amanda and Vodacom Complaints Team,

I am lodging a formal complaint regarding Vodacom's failure to honour a Black Friday cellphone deal (Reference: VODACOMDIREC-0004595182) that I applied for on November 29, 2025.

I fully complied with all application requirements and received written confirmation that my documents were successfully uploaded and received, only to have the deal retroactively withdrawn three weeks later due to an alleged "internal vetting failure."

Timeline and Facts:

1. November 29, 2025: Applied for the Black Friday deal and submitted all required documentation.
2. December 4, 2025: Received written confirmation from Vodacom (Amanda Mzimela) that: "The document(s) have been successfully uploaded on our system. You will be notified about the status of your application via SMS."
3. Subsequently: After repeated follow-ups over three weeks, I was informed that "something went wrong during vetting" and the deal is no longer available.

No rejection reason, vetting failure, or missing documentation was communicated to me in writing prior to this withdrawal.

Consumer Protection Act (CPA) Concerns:

Vodacom's actions suggest a breach of the CPA, 68 of 2008, specifically regarding:

- Section 41 (False, misleading or deceptive representations): I was led to believe my application was valid and progressing by the December 4 confirmation. Withdrawing the offer due to an internal issue constitutes a misleading representation.
- Section 19 (Consumer's right to timely performance): A three-week delay with no decision, followed by a retroactive withdrawal, constitutes an unreasonable delay and penalises the consumer for Vodacom's procedural failure.

I accepted the advertised promotion in good faith, and my application documents confirm I have a clean credit record, permanent employment, and a verifiable residential address.

Resolution Required:

I require one of the following two outcomes within five business days:

1. Honour the original Black Friday deal as applied for under Reference: VODACOMDIREC-0004595182; or
2. Provide a written, CPA-compliant explanation clearly stating the lawful basis for rejecting the application, including the specific, unmet vetting criteria.

Should this matter not be resolved within the stated timeframe, I will escalate this formal complaint to the National Consumer Commission (NCC) and ICASA. I will also publicly share the full interaction and supporting evidence across social media and consumer review channels to highlight Vodacom's handling of this promotion.

I trust this matter will be resolved promptly and professionally.

Regards,

Khalid Mahomed Khan

Hi

This email serves as a final formal warning regarding the unresolved matter of the withdrawn Black Friday deal (Reference: VODACOMDIREC-0004595182).

I have sent multiple requests and lodged a formal complaint on December 15, 2025, which remains unanswered and unresolved. I have not received a written, CPA-compliant explanation for the rejection of my application.

I demand a resolution—either the honouring of the original deal or the required legal explanation—within 2 business days.

Failure to resolve this issue by this deadline will result in the immediate public sharing of all correspondence and evidence across social media platforms, along with the immediate lodging of formal complaints with the National Consumer Commission (NCC) and ICASA.

Khalid Mahomed Khan
